A Viennese Institution, Reimagined

STEIGENBERGER HOTEL HERRENHOF

What was once the Café Herrenhof, one of the city's iconic 20th century coffee houses, has been transformed into a modern city hotel. The Steigenberger Hotel Herrenhof is tucked away right behind the Imperial Palace.

The hotel's grand façade is adorned with Art Deco elements that remind you of the house's Viennese history, and provide a contrast to the modern interior design. The Steigenberger Hotel Herrenhof creates a clean, upscale atmosphere that makes you feel well-taken-care-of in Vienna. And of course, it revived its own history by opening the Café Herrenhof for guests and visitors once again.

Your Host

Equal to Steigenberger Hotels and Resorts' 80-year tradition of hospitality is the tradition of the hotels themselves. Each one tells a story about the local culture.

Concierge Tip

Enjoy the Old World elegance of Vienna's palaces. Stop in at the Imperial Treasury or visit the Spanish Riding School just minutes from the hotel.

Chef's Tip

Enjoy the afternoon with a coffee and Herrenhof cake at the Café Herrenhof, the hotel's newly renovated turn-of-the-century café that is a true institution.
